

List of completed projects using ADNeT Registry data

Project Title	Approval Year	Principal Researcher, Organisation	Outputs
1. Factors associated with a diagnosis of Alzheimer's Disease Dementia at later stages of disease: A Cross-sectional analysis of data from the Australian Dementia Network Registry	2024	Dr Rowan Abdelwahab, Prince of Wales Hospital, New South Wales	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Abdel-Wahab, R., Lin, X., Honardoost, M., Ahern, S., Wallis, K., Brodaty, H. & Ward, S. Factors Associated with a Diagnosis of Alzheimer's Dementia at a Later Stage: A Cross-sectional Analysis of the Australian Dementia Network Registry, Oral presentation at Australian and New Zealand Society for Geriatric Medicine Annual Scientific Meeting 2025, 10 - 13 June 2025, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia • Ward, S., Dawes, V., Healy, M, Abdel-Wahab, R. & Lin, X. Australian Dementia Network (ADNeT) Registry User Group. Symposium at Australian Dementia Research Forum 2025, 3 – 5 June 2025, Perth, Western Australia, Australia
2. ADNeT Registry data for AIHW National Dementia Action Plan (NDAP) indicator reports	2024, 2025	Australian Institute of Health and Welfare (AIHW)	Data included in Australian Institute of Health and Welfare's National Dementia Action Plan indicators dashboard, please access via visit https://www.aihw.gov.au/reports/dementia/ndap-indicators-dashboard/contents/what-is-being-tracked
3. Rural-urban disparities in the diagnostic pathway of patients with mild cognitive impairment (MCI) and Alzheimer's disease	2024	Dr Jonathan Pearson-Stuttard, Lane Clark & Peacock LLP (LCP), United Kingdom	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lin, X., Taylor, C., de Laguiche, E., Adesanya, E., Brodaty, H., Pearson-Stuttard, J., Honardoost, M.A., Holloway, S., Ward, S.A., Ahern, S. and Woodward, M. (2025), Rural-urban disparities in the diagnostic pathway of patients with all-cause mild cognitive impairment or dementia due to Alzheimer's disease in Australia. Alzheimer's Dement., 21: e102814. https://doi.org/10.1002/alz70860_102814 • Lin, X., Honardoost, M., Ahern, S., Colman, T. , Ward, S., de Laguiche, E., Adesanya, E., Brodaty, H., Pearson-Stuttard, J., Holloway, S. & Woodward, M. Rural-urban disparities in the diagnostic pathway of mild cognitive impairment and Alzheimer's disease dementia: Findings from the Australian Dementia Network Registry. Poster presentation at 2025 Alzheimer Europe Conference, 6 - 8 October 2025, Bologna, Italy • Lin, X., Colman, T. , de Laguiche, E., Adesanya, E., Brodaty, H., Pearson-Stuttard, J., Honardoost, M., Holloway, S., Ward, S. Ahern, S., & Woodward, M. Rural-urban disparities in the diagnostic pathway of patients with all-cause mild cognitive impairment and Alzheimer's disease dementia. Poster presentation at 2025 Alzheimer's Association International Conference, 27 – 31 July, 2025, Toronto, Canada, and Online • Ahern, S., Lin, X., Honardoost, M., Brodaty, H., Adesanya, E., Colman, T. , de Laguiche, E., Pearson-Stuttard, J., Woodward, M., Holloway, S. & Ward, S. Geographical variation in the diagnostic pathway for Alzheimer's disease and mild cognitive impairment: preliminary findings from the Australian Dementia Network (ADNeT) Registry. Poster presentation at Australian Dementia Research Forum 2025, 3 – 5 June 2025, Perth, Western Australia, Australia

Project Title	Approval Year	Principal Researcher, Organisation	Outputs
4. Estimating demand for disease modifying therapy for Alzheimer's disease in South Australia	2024	Dr Christopher Belder, Central Adelaide Local Health Network, South Australia	Internal report only "The ADNeT Registry has provided us with ... state-wide data regarding the current diagnostic landscape of mild-cognitive impairment and Alzheimer's disease within South Australia, which has allowed us to model potential demand for emerging Alzheimer's disease treatments and plan for future service development." Dr Christopher Belder, Consultant Neurologist, Neurology Memory Clinic, The Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Central Adelaide Local Health Network, South Australia

- Updated on 4th February 2026